Red Units Are Fighting Back Savagely Near "Iron Triangle"

Red Forces In Some Sectors Fight Fiercely

U.N. Columns Make Gains Only In Part Of Central Front

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, June 8.—United Nations forces, pushing toward North Korea's "Iron Triangle" and other key areas, ran into fierce opposition today from Communist troops supported by mounting artillery and mortar barrages.

Chinese and North Korean units fought back savagely along almost the whole 125-mile cross-peninsular front, curbing the Allied advance everywhere except in the central sector.

There the UN columns were able to gouge out gains of little more than a mile Friday, with tank patrols pushing forward some three miles farther.

"Heavy Resistance"
Below Chonwon, southwest point of the enemy's vital triangular buildup area, UN troops bumped into "heavy resistance" from an estimated three Chinese battalions north of Yonchon.

This was announced in the Eighth Army's Friday night communiqué which added that "the enemy forces resisted all attempts by Allied vanguards to probe their positions."

"Enemy mortar and artillery fire are continuing," said the bulletin.

Farther east on the western front, the announcement stated, other UN assault forces pressing up the road from Yonpyong were "engaged by an estimated enemy battalions in the morning, with the action continuing into the afternoon."

Communist opposition, which had softened slightly Thursday evening, hardened anew on Friday after UN troops captured Chipo, 13 miles southwest of Kumhwa, eastern anchor of the Iron Triangle.

Make Advances
On the mountainous central front, however, Allied forces managed to carve out fresh advances up to 2,000 yards Friday. Tank patrols sliced another 5,000 yards forward, reporting only "light contact," the communiqué said.

Chipo is on a highway running northeast of Kumhwa from Uijong.

One result of the bus strike in this city, seems to be quite an increase in the traffic on the streets. Especially at night is the increase noticeable.

Listed among Pa News's unusual items is a rose bush 20 to 25 feet high. It is owned by Mrs. John Miller, 603 Harbor street. The rose is of the common variety, the Cabbage Rose and started growing up the trunk of a maple tree. The rose is not a climber but the canes are supported by the branches of the tree and gives the tree the appearance of being in blossom.

Workmen of the city were engaged this morning at the site of the old east side drinking fountain near the railroad tracks on East Washington street. Pedestrians are hoping that the fountain will be placed back in use.

Wide Search Is Under Way For Two Missing Diplomats

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 8.—Britain ordered a Europe-wide search today for its two missing diplomats and was reported considering working out a new code because enemy agents might learn the present secret code from the vanished men.

Official sources said that the government's greatest fear now is that foreign agents on the continent might in some way secure the code used in transmitting vital top-level messages.

Both Know Code
These sources said that Donald

MacLean, 38, and his fellow career diplomat, Guy Burgess, 40, both know the code.

Britain's military intelligence officials were reported conferring with high foreign office members about the question of devising a new code.

The hunt throughout all of Europe and right up to the fringes of the "Iron Curtain" was intensified hourly for the men who originally had been reported headed for Russia through France.

Although many persons, including those in official circles, were (and still are) suspected,

Conference Is Called On Bus Strike Today

Mayor Haven Has Arranged Parley In Sharon At 3 P. M.

In an effort to settle the dispute between Union bus operators of New Castle, Sharon, Farrell, Sharpville and Wheatland; and the Shenango Valley Transportation company, Mayor John F. Haven has arranged a conference to be held at Sharon, at three p. m. today.

The conferees will be, in addition to Mayor Haven, Mayor Jones, Sharon, Mayor Nevant, Farrell; and the burgesses of Sharpville and Wheatland; President Samuel Friedman of the transportation company and Roland Fisher, New Castle, head of the operators union.

Agree To Meet
The mayor telephoned the various officials yesterday. All parties agreed to meet and Sharon's city hall, was picked as the site for the conference. The meeting, at first, was set for 11 a. m. today, but was postponed until 3 p. m., at Mr. Friedman's request.

The union has requested an increase of 10 percent. Operators now receive $1.28 per hour, and mechanics, $1.38 an hour. The company offered to increase the wage, six cents an hour. However, union officials refused to consider the six cents an hour raise.

Mayor Haven said he hoped that, if the entire problem cannot be settled today, that he will be able to get the operators to return to work, pending a final adjustment of the differences.

The strike began Monday morning. Since then not a bus has been in operation.

Truman Seeks Extension Of Controls Power

By CHARLES E. SEIB
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Administration forces in Congress rallied for an all-out drive to get through a tightened economic controls law today, fortified by a letter from Bernard Baruch and a statement by President Truman.

Supporters of stricter controls are expected also to bank on the Labor Department's announcement that retail food prices hit an all-time peak of 227.1 percent of the 1935-39 average in the first two weeks of May.

Forecast Cautious

But despite Baruch's plea for stabilization of all prices, wages, rents and other costs, the president's declaration that the controls law must be "extended and strengthened" Republicans forecast a cutback in the White House request for more controls powers.

A more direct approach was to be tried by Mr. Truman this afternoon at a White House meeting with ranking Republicans and Democrats from the House and Senate Banking Committees.

In his statement on controls, the President warned that the present law will expire June 30 and declared:

"It is extremely important that the defense production act be extended if we are to keep the heavy pressures of the next few months from becoming an unmanageable torrent of inflation."

Warning By Truman

Mr. Truman warned that the U. S. is now in a "breathing spell" and that inflationary pressures will grow rapidly through the rest of this year and next year.

Sen. Capehart (R) Ind., ranking GOP member of the Senate Banking Committee, commented that "the president has got all the powers he needs at the moment." Capehart predicted that the new controls law would be very similar to the old one.

Sen. Bricker (R) Ohio, said he felt a stop-gap extension of the 1950 law would be needed to give Congress time to prepare a new one, and joined in Capehart's prediction that the president won't get all he asked for.

Sec. Acheson Is Testifying Seventh Day

By JAMES LEE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Secretary Acheson today began his seventh round of testimony in the Senate probe of Far East policy and Gen. MacArthur's dismissal and Democrats pressed their queries about the so-called Nationalist "China lobby."

The Secretary of State faced further interrogation on charges that friends of Chiang Kai-shek have sought to influence American policy and public opinion.

Acheson said he has ordered the State Department to assemble data on the matter, and promised "through cooperation" in any congressional probe.

Assails Explanation
Meanwhile, Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, assailed the secretary's explanation of U. S. policy toward China. Taft asserted:

"I'm convinced that the State Department crowd wanted to get rid of Chiang—they wanted the Communists to take over not only Formosa but all of China. They were for the Communists."

The Ohioan added that MacArthur was removed because "President Truman just got mad."

President Truman strongly backed up his secretary of state at his weekly news conference yesterday.

Acheson had told the truth in the hearings at a time when the truth is emphatically desired. He said he will not let Acheson leave the cabinet, and that the secretary is doing a good job in his Senate testimony.

Hope of finishing with Acheson today was diminished by a plan for voting in the Senate on appropriation matters, which would require the presence of committee members.

British In Iran Oil Fields Told To Get Exit Visas

TEHRAN, June 8.—(INS)—The British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company was reported today to have advised Britons and other foreign workers in the Abadan oil field area to secure exit visas.

The action was termed a precautionary measure in the event that evacuation becomes necessary should tension mount over the oil dispute between Iran and Britain.

Unconfirmed rumors circulated in Tehran that 5,000 pro-British Bakhtiari tribesmen now are concentrating in Khuzistan province in anticipation of a possible outbreak of trouble.

State Legislators Begin Ten-Day Recess Period

By AL SPIVAK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, June 8.—The general assembly today began a 10-day recess that may produce a solution to the financial impasse delaying final adjournment.

Senate Republicans will meet June 15 with Gov. John S. Fine and cabinet heads to iron out a wrangle over $111,000,000 in new revenue Fine has demanded to meet his $120,000,000 budget for the next biennium which started June 1.

Prospects for approval of a state income tax were slight when the legislature recessed yesterday until June 18.

Majority Leader John M. Walker—one of 11 GOP senators blocking passage of the one-half of one per cent income tax—said he saw no chance for its revival.

The House-approved measure was held up when the GOP caucus proved that 11 of the 30-member majority bloc would join the 20 Democrats in opposing it.

A number of substitute tax proposals have been advanced, Walker said.

Reunion Ends This Afternoon

Scottish Rite Body Concludes Program

Conferring of degrees in the 88th reunion of the Coordinate Bodies of the Valley of New Castle Consistory, A. A. S. R., was concluded this afternoon with the exemplification of the 32nd degree by the officers of the consistory.

This officially ends one of the finest reunions held in some time. The class of 250 members honored the new commander in chief, John H. Templeton, when they named the class for him, at the organization meeting held Thursday afternoon. Officers named to serve the class, are: President, Rev. Loy Clinton Gobrecht, Ellwood City; vice president, John Parks Todd, Butler; treasurer, A. Dickson Kihmehl, Volant; and secretary, James W. Gordon, Rochester.

Illness of two of the faithful workers at the reunion, Ernie E. Branstetter, pianist; and David W. Rees, chorister, both of whom were stricken this week, and are in the Jameson Memorial hospital, somewhat saddened the members, but both are said to be getting along nicely in the hospital.

Edward C. Book, supervisor of vocal music at the senior high school, took over the group singing at the reunion dinner, ably filling Mr. Rees' shoes, and will serve in that capacity this evening at the entertainment.

The ladies of the class members are guests this afternoon at a tea and entertainment at the New Castle Country club, and with the candidates, will be special guests at the dinner and entertainment this evening.

Secret Trip To Korean Front Is Disclosed

Secretary Marshall, At Tokyo, Denies Any Peace Effort

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Secretary of State Acheson declared today that there is nothing brewing on a Korean armistice and that Defense Secretary Marshall's trip to Japan and Korea is merely to study military operations.

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, June 9.—(Saturday)—Defense Secretary George C. Marshall returned to Tokyo late last night from a surprise visit to the Korean battlelines and denied that his trip to the Far East carries any political implications.

Marshall told newsmen in Tokyo and at Eighth Army Headquarters that his trip was purely to inspect the Eighth Army. He specifically denied that he carried any new directives for Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Far East supreme commander.

He also denied knowledge of any cease-fire plan in Korea.

The 71-year-old defense secretary, dressed nattily in civilian clothes despite his rank of five-star general, told newsmen at Tokyo's Haneda airport shortly after his plane arrived at 10:33 p. m. (8:53 a. m. EDT).

"I came to inspect the Eighth Army,"

"Purely Military"

He added that his trip was "purely military" and he did not know how long he would remain in the Far East. Asked specifically whether he had brought any directives, Marshall replied:

"I did not."

To correspondents in Tokyo and at Eighth Army Headquarters in Korea Marshall brushed off persistent questions on peace rumors with the identical answer:

"You'd have to ask Chou En Lai and Mao Tse Tung."

Marshall was accompanied by Ridgway and by Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet on his eight-hour tour of the Korean War front.

His first arrival in Tokyo, where he picked up Ridgway, was cloaked in secrecy. Until his return to Tokyo his movements were made under one of the strictest security mantles of the Korean War.

Stalemate Not Inevitable
Marshall told correspondents at Eighth Army Headquarters in Korea that a stalemate in the war on that peninsula is not inevitable.

Indicating that he foresaw a clear-cut victory in the 11½-month-old conflict, Marshall cautiously replied to a newsmen's question:

Come the summer sun and the balmy days, and the nights of the mellow moon, and the scented breezes that sweep the trees, on the days and the nights of June. The fruit trees promise a bumper crop, and the roses are blushing red, and out in the woods in the picnic grove, there's many a picnic spread. Potato salad and pickled beets, and cole slaw of the I sing, and plenty of beans for you know darn well that's one thing they'll always bring, and some one suggests that we sing a song and its always Sweet Adeline, oh the picnic season is here, you ho, and the weather is seventy-two.

THEIR WORLD

This is the commencement season. It is symbolized by the beribboned cylinder of simulated parchment, representing the degree that cost four years of more or less arduous study and many thousands of dollars.

The customary accompaniments of the season are the bright faces and shining eyes of the graduates, the proud beams of their parents, and the earnest, if not always original, exhortations of the commencement orators. There are also the inevitable honorary degrees and reunion shenanigans, but these are collateral to the central spectacle, the graduation exercises.

There have been commencement seasons in happier, more hopeful years, but mature adults should not assume that youthful minds share their particular apprehensions. This year's graduates include many veterans who have seen the worst of war's horrors and in seeing lost some of youth's illusions.

All have grown up in a world that has known little of security. Born in economic depression, reared in one war and coming to manhood in the shadow of another, they accept as normal the uncertainties of a time of troubles.

They cannot look forward with the carefree optimism that was the happy attitude of their fathers and mothers in the graduating classes of the '20s. Most of them face military service, some for the second time in a decade. But all of them are planning a future, and not without hope that they will have lives that will generally be as successful and satisfying as those of preceding generations.

The 1951 graduate is not complaining because he does not live in the world his father knew. He never knew that world and therefore cannot regret its passing. He and his classmates are for the most part a strong, a sturdy lot, robust in mind and body, looking to the future with realism and courage, determined to meet as best they can both the opportunities that will come to them.

They rate a salute, these youngsters of the class of '51. They lack the dewy innocence and naive enthusiasms which formerly caused oldsters to look with patronizing tenderness on young graduates, but they stir the pride and inspire the respect of all by their brave adjustment to conditions which dishearten and sadden their elders.

WHAT MARX DIDN'T KNOW

A century ago Karl Marx foresaw the self-destruction of capitalism as inevitable. The rich get richer, he said in effect, and the poor get poorer. Such a process carried far enough would obviously lead to the destruction of one class or the other. So revolution, ending in the liquidation of the rich, was the only outcome, he said.

It is evident today, as it was in Marx's day to those who weren't gullible, that the man who authored a lot of socialistic nonsense was mistaken in saying that the characteristic behavior of capitalism he thought he had observed had to be true for all countries and for all times.

History does not record a single instance anywhere in the world the rich constantly became richer and the poor poorer. And in the United States the rich have been getting less rich and the poor have been getting less poor.

Those who were clearing $9,000 (after federal taxes) in 1946 were rich—in the top 1 per cent of individual incomes. Anybody making more than $8,994 was in that bracket. But in 1929 it was necessary to be making more than $13,169 to be in the top 1 per cent. The rich certainly aren't getting richer.

And the poor aren't getting poorer, either. The average individual income in this country in 1929 was $690. In 1946 it was $1,666. That is quite an accomplishment, considering that the nation is paying for the most expensive war. Marx is the most discredited inventor of economic fallacies in history.

IT'S DANGEROUS

The friendliness and helpfulness which once were among the pleasant characteristics of Americans are rapidly being destroyed by the vicious and the depraved. No one in his right mind will stop on a highway after dark to help a fellow traveler with a disabled car. Too often the appearance of disability is a lure prepared by robbers.

Similarly the sensible motorist no longer picks up hitchhikers. FBI Director Hoover shows why this kindness is dangerous. Cases reported to the FBI include an increasing number involving "individuals who pick up strangers along the highway and are later victimized, robbed and in some instances murdered."

There is no way the obliging motorist can tell whether the stranger will turn out to be a pleasant traveling companion or a desperate. Use a "great deal of discretion" in picking up hitchhikers, urges Mr. Hoover. The best form of discretion is not to pick up any of them, however innocent their appearance.

Key To European Defense

The assembly line—one of America's greatest contributions to industrial progress—emerged today as the key to western European defense and the production gadget that will make aggression a lost cause from the outset.

Plain-spoken Gen. Omar N. Bradley gave this simple definition of democracy's greatest need in the east-west struggle after a series of conferences in Paris.

The chief of the joint chiefs of staff was lavish in his praise of France's determination to defend itself and the nation's swing away from defeatism.

He pointed out that French production has risen, to 135 per cent of the pre-war output.

Must Be Increased

But he spoke of "gaps" and it was apparent that he was thinking of European production, which defense chiefs hold must be increased rapidly, especially while American military supplies are being shunted off to meet the grave requirements of the war in Korea.

Bradley found that the French will continue to need money and raw materials, plus attainment of a proper balance between military and civilian production. It is apparent that he found the French stand just and reasonable but obviously could offer no immediate blueprint for putting all of France's military production on an assembly line basis.

Bradley's later visit to London was concerned more with purely military affairs, particularly integration of the Eastern Mediterranean into the North Atlantic defense system.

Stress British Needs

But the British obviously were not going to lose an opportunity to stress again their own needs for raw materials from the United States. And the point also was bound to be made that British output for civilian needs must be considered, together with the need for maintaining at least present living standards.

There seems to be a good chance that when Bradley returns to Washington he will broach the possibility of making more use of Italian productive capacity than is the case at present.

While primarily an agricultural nation, Italy's industrial machine is far advanced. The gigantic hydro-electric power facilities of the north have made Milan and Turin two of the greatest industrial cities in the world and despite war losses and damage, the country as a whole is geared to swift mass production.

Italian Offer

The Italian government of Premier Alcide De Gasperi has offered time and again to place all available facilities at disposal of the democratic allies and there is little doubt that much value could accrue from their fullest possible use.

The present peace treaty stands in the way of such exploitation from the common benefit.

The Italians are restricted militarily and economically. They are paying the price of a bad military gamble.

But from aristocrats and government leaders down to the lowliest peasant all feel that they have proved (1) Benito Mussolini dragged them into the war against their will or at least against their better judgment, and (2) they have done their penance and desire sovereignty so they can contribute fully to future peace.

Seemingly, there was only one unfavorable factor in connection with Gen. Bradley's visit to Paris.

Election Is Ahead

This is a forthcoming election on June 17, in which Communists and Right-Wing De Gaullists have teamed up in criticism of the government for its continued search of United States aid for rearmament on the grounds this is making proud France a vassal of America.

Defense Minister Jules Moch and other government leaders cite chapter and verse to show that France is maintaining her independence but at the same time must have American aid to preserve her freedom.

Advance predictions regarding the elections vary widely. But the Communist menace in France seems to have lost a great deal of its impetus and there is reason to believe that the rank and file of the workers are coming around to the belief that in increased defense production lies the key to survival.

Bradley in any case is not discouraged. If he were, he would not hesitate to say so.

BACK FROM THE CLEANERS

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Not Time For Complacency

WASHINGTON, June 8.—While the situation in Iran looks a little less like flaming into violence, this is not the moment for complacency.

At best, the present can be a breather in which we had better do some hard thinking about the position of the foreign investor in so-called under-developed countries.

Iran is not unique. It is a glaringly conspicuous example of the threat to American as well as British companies in areas where the level of life is abysmally low. Certain American companies live in fear that their large investments in Central and South American countries will come under the eye of politicians riding the nationalist and nationalization wave.

Foreign companies with advance technology and modern methods of operation have a great deal to offer to countries still at the primitive level of development. The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company has done much in Iran.

Mission Is Sent

In 1948, at the request of the Iranian government, the international labor office, a United Nations agency, sent a mission to study conditions in the oil industry. That mission found, according to its report issued six months ago, that against the background of the appalling lack of even such elementary needs as clean drinking water, "the working and living conditions of the oil workers appear as an encouraging example of what can be done."

The company, according to the report, "appears to be genuinely anxious to promote good industrial relations and in this respect its policy seems to have advanced considerably in recent years."

But the ILO investigators also found that the company kept under its own control problems of public service that should have been taken up with national and municipal authorities. In the country as a whole the mission found considerable mystery about the economic colossus that seemed to wield almost sovereign power within a supposedly sovereign country.

Get Close To Trouble

This, in my opinion gets close to the trouble. Too often the big company operates in the pattern of a past, now gone forever, when government officials could be conveniently bribed and the company could go on its own independent—and often highly benevolent—way.

In that very benevolence was a hazard. Standards of Anglo-Iranian workers were higher than those of anyone else. They lived on a plateau considerably above the direct and great mass of miserable people.

But, at most, when both direct and indirect benefits are taken into account, only about a half-million people in Iran lived on that fortunate plateau. This meant that the only 16,500,000 Iranians could only look up enviously at their more fortunate fellows. In many ways that situation was ready-made for political exploitation.

Even the Republicans think he should retire next year and enjoy the unexpected bankroll he has accumulated.

Johnson Comeback?

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8.—Such is the inconstancy of fortune that Louis Johnson, the most ill-used man in Washington nine months ago, is already part way back into political favor with both parties and may even be well on his return to public service, if he'll accept it.

Louie Defense, as he was known in happier days, is a stand-out on any list of displaced Democratic persons—beginning as far back as Henry Wallace and James Byrnes—in that Johnson has never uttered a word of complaint or malice, never blamed anybody for his ouster and never bemoaned his outcast state in books, public speeches, bar-rooms or locker-rooms, these being the places where ex-officials most often protest their innocence and vow their revenge.

Made Some Rather Ashamed

As a result of his well-kept silence (and also because he's been a good listener at times), Johnson has made a good many people rather ashamed of their past behavior toward him. Coals of fire, if not actually heaped, have been hovering over the heads of those who spoke or wrote unkindly of him—and to whom Johnson has always returned a soft answer. Ironically, some of the hatchet-men who chopped down Johnson are now busy hacking away at Secretary Acheson, so recently their hero. And at least three administration Democrats—one in the cabinet and two on Capitol Hill—have spoken remorsefully of Johnson's firing and wistfully of his possible return to duty.

Some of the Johnson-Acheson conflict may be brought to light when Louie Defense appears within a few days before the Russell committee. Johnson is going to be asked about the circumstances of his firing last September, but he's not going in to answer in a way to make anybody angry. It will be enough for the committee if Johnson shows how widely and how often he and Acheson disagreed on policy which dealt with Formosa, Korea and China.

If the committee pursues this line of inquiry, it can dramatize something which Americans today will understand and gravely ponder. For the disagreement between Johnson and Acheson is the conflict between two types of American loyalists—types, in fact, which often exist within the same person during times of national confusion.

Johnson Is Patrioteer

Johnson is the Fourth of July patrioteer who lurks inside most of us. If you look closely you'll see his eyes fill up with tears when Kate Smith sings "God Bless America"; and there have been moments when he's tried to solve the Commie problem by seizing some agitator by the throat and throwing him out the window of the lodge.

Acheson is the deep-browed Hamlet who sees no such oversimplification in life, patriotism or world events. He knows, though he doesn't expect the American Legion to endorse the idea, that some Commies are probably kind to their mothers and that some are even perfectly sincere worriers about mankind's miseries on earth. It is this sort of intellect that leads a man to wishful thinking about One World and peace by social reform.

Johnson and Acheson on the same presidential Cabinet were sure to clash, and the temper of the times is such that most people would side with Johnson if the story were dramatized.

Johnson May Benefit

The fact is that Johnson may soon benefit from the same sort of emotionalism which lit up the sky for Gen. MacArthur. Johnson's welcome, of course, will be much more moderate in fireworks, much more limited in scope, but it may last him longer and be of more national importance than MacArthur's. For there is nobody in either party with a knife out for Johnson at the moment. Republicans and Dixiecrats have always liked his money-conscious tenure at the Pentagon. Democrats are apt to see in Louie Defense the big, extraverted hundred-percenter whom the party badly needs.

Moreover there is plenty of room in the defense set-up for a man of Johnson's energy and talents. Back in 1946 Secretary of War Patterson had this to say in a California speech:

"I cannot touch upon industrial mobilization without mention of the impetus given to industrialization in the 1930's by Louis Johnson. . . . He devoted himself to pioneering work . . . of utmost value when war was thrust upon us."

Would Johnson take such a job today under the Defense Production Act of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization? His friends say not, but the Johnson character suggests otherwise. He's the kind who'd take any job that allowed him to feel he has his hands on the throat of his country's enemies.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A rather unusual request came in the mail today.

It is from a college girl who has to write a thesis on "What would you do if you were a MULTI-millionaire?"

She puts the "multi" in capitals because, I suppose, everybody knows what to do with a million nowadays. No question, however, about the question when it is a multi-millioning proposition.

She wants me to advise her. She is stuck. Having an allowance of only five dollars a week and being a member of a fairly well-to-do but not wealthy family, she can't even imagine herself a multi-millionaire. She has never given the question any thought.

But she has to write about it. It has something to do with her course in sociology or economics—she doesn't say which.

At any rate she wants me to tell her what I would do if I were a multi-millionaire.

So now I am stuck. I can't tell her. To judge by our mail, we newspaper folks are supposed to be able to answer every question, whether it be on cooking, gardening, marriage, medicine, religion—or being a multi-millionaire.

All I know about multi-millionaires is what I read in the papers and, frankly, to paraphrase the song, "That ain't good."

For instance, here is a story about Doris Duke, the tobacco heiress.

At the moment "she and her ex, Porfirio Rubirosa, are enjoying the beauties and quiet of Shangri-La, Doris' Hawaiian estate."

Just before that, according to the report, they were enjoying the beauties and quiet of Duke Farms, Doris' New Jersey estate.

This place is described as follows: "Duke Farms has thousands of acres and 10 lakes within its confines. There are Japanese gardens, an entire kingdom of orchids and other flowers."

"The house in which Doris lives is probably the longest residence in the world. Only two stories in height, the house's length is three city blocks, and you can see from one end to the other, as all rooms open upon each other in perfect symmetry."

When I think of not only the cost but the servant-trouble connected with maintaining that and all her other estates—here is one way I wouldn't live if I were a multi-millionaire.

Leon Trotsky was born near Elizavetgrad, Russia, in 1879. In 1898 he was arrested as a revolutionary and exiled to Siberia, but escaped and went to England. He served as a war correspondent in Constantinople in 1913. When the revolution in Russia broke out in 1917 he returned to Russia and worked with Nicolai Lenin, playing an important part in organizing the Bolshevik government. He was made people's commissar for foreign affairs. After Lenin's death he lost one position after another under Josef Stalin, and was finally exiled. In 1937 he went to live in Mexico. He was attacked there in his home by a "friend," who was said to be a Russian agent, and died Aug. 21, 1940.

Born in Rahway, N. J., in April, about 1861, Carolyn Wells was engaged in literary work from 1900. ## Strip Mining Is Discussed

Some alarm over the effects of strip mining in this county were expressed Thursday night when the agricultural committee of the Greater New Castle Association met.

The committee will request Assemblyman Robert M. White to investigate and inform the committee whether or not the state law is being thwarted by strip miners.

A discussion was also held concerning improving and strengthening existing farm market service. The committee also discussed the idea of recognizing outstanding agricultural work in the county from time to time.

A farm tour was suggested for later this summer in an endeavor to bring about a better understanding of the problems of the modern farm.

Dale Currie, chairman, presided at the meeting.

Reports Discovery For Treatment Of Rheumatic Diseases

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 8. (INS)—A leading medical researcher said today he has isolated and destroyed almost invisible crippling germs which he said are the indicated cause of arthritis and other rheumatic diseases.

Dr. Thomas McPherson Brown said extensive clinical and laboratory tests indicated that the crippling diseases which affect seven million Americans are caused by the microbes and not, as believed, by body deficiencies.

Dr. Brown told of his theory on the cause of arthritis and allied diseases in a paper read by an associate before the American Rheumatism Association in Atlantic City.

The scientist, a pioneer in rheumatic diseases research, reported he and his associates were able to isolate the almost-invisible "crippler germs," called "L organisms," and kill them with gold salts and certain antibiotic drugs.

He said human treatment and laboratory experiments show soil-derived terramycin is the most potent weapon in the war against the disease which causes pain, swelling, stiffness and often the crippling of arthritis patients.

LOOKING AT LIFE

I don't remember her present name.

Here is a multi-millionaire who has traveled all over the world to find health and happiness and who has signally failed.

With all her fortune, sickness and misery have been her lot, according to all reports, and all her millions have not been able to buy her what any shopkeeper or clerk can have, provided there is capacity for happiness.

Now we come to Tommy Manville who is rumored to be about to take his ninth wife.

Would you change places with him? I am sure I wouldn't.

So here we have three multi-millionaires who haven't been able to meet the problem covered by my college girl's question.

How can I answer her? Can you?

trary and visionary. To function in the world today foreign investors must be prepared to offer creative and imaginative partnership with peoples who possess resources and who need know-how and guidance. The partnership must be full and complete and not just a convenient form to disguise the reality of one-way domination. With such a partnership as a base there will be profit and progress enough for all concerned.

DYNAMITE

Dynamite is pretty powerful stuff. It explodes with a big noise and causes a big commotion. That is one kind of energy. In their quiet way the buds exert more energy in one day than all the dynamite that was ever made.

Animal life and vegetable life consume various kinds of nourishment and convert it into energy. Farmers are very particular about proper soil for their crops and proper feed for their stock. Mom tries to provide the proportions of protein, fat, carbohydrate, vitamins and minerals for her family to change into energy.

Including the mouths of the streams flowing into it, Chesapeake Bay has about 4,000 miles of tidewater shore.

Plan Community Vacation School At Castlewood

Plans have been completed for a two-week Daily Vacation Bible school. The school is entirely interdenominational in nature and teaching as well as the plan of administration. With the Bible as the text book splendid helps are provided as guides to the study of the book. Handwork as a means of education to bring out the meaning and purpose of the Bible to the students personal life each day is used. Flannelgraph sketches are used by the leader of the devotional period each morning to illustrate the Biblical scenes, stories, people and places.

The faculty of the school has invited all boys and girls from four to 14 years to attend. All school sessions are in the Christian and Missionary Alliance church at Castlewood starting Monday, June 11, at 9 a.m. with the regular sessions following from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. for the following two weeks except Saturday and Sunday.

Parents may come at any time and see the school in operation. Committee in charge includes Rev. V. M. Orner, Mrs. Orpha Young and Mrs. Earl Cunningham.

HARRISBURG, June 8.—(INS)—Claim for jobless benefits fell four per cent in Pennsylvania to a total of 19,700 in the week ended June 1.

The State Unemployment Compensation Bureau said held-over claims rose one per cent to 70,900. Apparel and textiles continued to lead the list of industries responsible for unemployment, the bureau reported.

Still Plies Old Trade

Standing beside handmade buggies that he has manufactured is R. R. Grim of Volant. The buggies are (left to right) a four-wheel turn buggy having two fifth wheels, rubber-tired pony buggy, slat wagon or old fashioned buckboard, and another pony buggy for show purposes.

One of the ancient trades that has rapidly disappeared from the industries of Pennsylvania is still being plied in Volant. R. R. Grim, blacksmith, still manufactures wagons and buggies for farmers and for show purposes. Mr. Grim is probably the only maker of handmade buggies still working in Lawrence county.

Back in 1911, Mr. Grim started to learn his unique trade under T. J. Campbell and Daniel Wright at Volant. He went into business for himself in the year of 1913 and is one of the few to still turn out the handmade contraptions in the state.

Many of the essential metal parts are made by Mr. Grim in his blacksmith shop, although some are purchased readymade. He has just finished there construction of a four-wheel turn buggy having two fifth-wheels. The buggy turns with the rear as well as the front wheels. This buggy will be used for show purposes.

Manufacture and repair of wagons and buggies is only part of the work done by Mr. Grim. Since blacksmiths are rapidly disappearing from the rural scene and the number of horses remains the same, he does a great deal of shoeing of horses as well.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Summer Reading

What's on the docket for our summertime activity?

Probably there's a vacation plan abrewing, some plans for family swimming parties, ideas about picnics once in a while and perhaps a slight worry as to whether the youngsters can be kept busy and interested.

What about a plan for reading? The summer months, with the greater leisure they bring for children, provide an excellent opportunity for fun with books. A little thinking now will make it likely that your "gang" can enjoy some of the old favorites and get acquainted with interesting new books.

Why not consult your librarian? Almost certainly, she'll be happy to talk things over with you. And most libraries are willing to check out enough books so that the family can take ample reading along for that two weeks or three weeks vacation.

If you're going to the shore or mountains, a guide book or two on flowers, birds or insects is a handy thing to have along. Re-reading "Tom Sawyer" or "Swiss Family Robinson" can be fun, too. Whatever you are planning, books for the resting hours or the rainy days will add to the summertime pleasure of young and old.

DES MOINES — It was a busy 24-hours on the Babe Sheridan Farm at Gambell one day recently. In those 24 hours, 18 cows gave birth to calves. The cows were purchased as range animals by Sheridan last winter. The 18 calves will be fed for market while the cows will be kept on the farm, Sheridan said.

HARRISBURG, June 8.—(INS)—State police headquarters today reported that no evidence has been found to back up a Beaver county mother's charge that her son had been beaten to death at the Pennsylvania Industrial school in July, 1944.

Gov. John S. Fine ordered the investigation after Mrs. Mary Zachodni complained that her 16-year-old son, John, had been beaten in the state industrial school at White Hill near Harrisburg.

Corp. Wilson Is Home After Long Korea Service

New Wilmington's first member of the armed forces to arrive home under the new functioning rotation system, is Corp. John A. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kenneth Wilson, South Market street. He reached the west coast Saturday and arrived at his home Wednesday night.

Corp. Wilson was among the first to be shipped to Korea following the president's "police action" decision last summer. His outfit left Ft. Lewis, Washington, July 22, and landed at Pusan, August 2. Within three days the men were in foxholes and engaged in the business of war. Wilson's unit was and is Co. L 2nd Division, 23rd Infantry Regiment, which has seen almost constant action since entering combat ten months ago.

Among the best known battles were those at Wonju, Chipyong, Kunu and Natong River, and the Taegon area. It was at the first, Wonju, that the 2nd made its famous stand in subzero weather which prevented the necessity of retreat for the Eighth Army.

The division was cited for heroic action in September by Syngman Rhee, president of the South Korean Republic. The same rugged action was carried on during the following months with severe casualties inflicted on the Reds.

The force of this action was recalled recently when Red troops were reported to have received orders to annihilate the UN ranks in retaliation for losses suffered at the hands of this 2nd Division.

In January the 23rd Regiment entered combat for 84 days during which time it had no relief. Wilson had written of the attacks by greatly superior numbers in weather at 25 below zero, and his letters were verified by articles written in papers and magazines throughout the country.

The New Wilmington soldier enlisted in the army September 2, 1949, and received much of his training at Ft. Dix, N. J. He was transferred to Ft. Lewis, Washington, and was shipped out from that location July 22, less than one year after entering the service.

He is expected to spend a thirty day furlough with his parents before reporting to Indianapolis Gap for further orders.

Registration
Totals 44,931Slightly Under
That Of 1950

On Primary Day, July 24, 44,931 citizens of Lawrence county will be eligible to vote, A. Lewis Conn, chief clerk of the Permanent Registration Bureau said today.

Of this number there will some who have died, others who are unable to get to the polls because of illness or absence from the city, and of course many who will not vote because of carelessness or indifference.

To this total will be added an unknown number of military ballots. These include men and women in service or who are confined in hospitals.

Of the total, 30,429 are registered as Republicans and 14,171 as Democrats. Splitter registrations, such as Prohibition, Socialist, Independent, Progressive, No Party and the like total 331.

New Castle has a registration of 16,072 Republicans and 6,137 Democrats. Ellwood City has 3,052 Republicans and 2,038 Democrats. The other boros and townships have 11,305 Republicans and 5,996 Democrats.

Of the total county registration there are 24,158 men registered and 20,773 women.

What the total vote will be is anybody's guess but it probably will not be high. A 40 per cent vote in the primary election is considered average but this year the election comes in the middle of the summer when many people are on vacations or are too warm to be bothered.

A 40 per cent vote would total less than 18,000 in the entire county and less than 9,000 in New Castle.

Roaming Dogs In State Cause Big Livestock Loss

HARRISBURG, June 8—Leading a dog's life in Pennsylvania, especially if the dog roamed at night, resulted in losses to farm livestock and poultry totaling $41,695.92 during 1950, according to Miles Horst, State Secretary of Agriculture.

Claims for destruction by dogs of cattle, sheep, swine, poultry and other animals totaled 1,185, the secretary said. Where owners of roving dogs could be identified by Department agents, the State recovered $5,845 in damages.

Dogs left to roam at large during the night over farm lands and pastures of Pennsylvania killed or injured 1,950 sheep which cost the State $19,523.45 when claims were settled through the Department of Agriculture. Poultry losses were the next highest, totaling $14,281.07. Damage inflicted by roving dogs on livestock other than sheep totaled $7,891.40 and burial fees paid by the State aggregated $2,075.90, making a grand total of $43,771.82 paid by the department.

Licensing of dogs in Pennsylvania reached near-record proportions in 1950. The total of 702,287 individual licenses issued in cooperation with the State Department of Revenue compares with the record 731,910 set in 1949. License fees last year totaled $929,320 against the record $986,737 the year before. Prosecutions for violation of the State dog law in 1950 totaled 2,021, resulting in the collection of $10,366 in fines.

Department agents are making every effort to reduce dog damage to livestock and Secretary Horst asked cooperation of all dog owners to keep their animals confined when it is known that the dogs have a tendency to roam either day or night.

The National Geographic society says Japan is probably the world's worst earthquake risk.

TIPS FOR CEREAL INSECT CONTROL

When a box of breakfast cereal is found with tiny brown beetles in it, destroy the infested food. This is the first step in getting rid of these cereal insects. The next thing to do is to heat uninfested materials in shallow pans for a half hour in a 150-degree Fahrenheit oven, then put them in tightly closed containers. It is important that all food containers be heat-sterilized. It would be wise to buy foods in small enough quantities so they are used up quickly.

For walls and cupboard shelves, a 5 per cent DDT oil solution is a must. Apply the DDT with a paint brush, one to two inches wide. Be sure to get the DDT into cracks and crevices. If the cupboard has an enclosed space below the flour bin and other shelves, bore holes in the false bottom large enough so that the spray will reach thru and treat the space.

One precaution is sounded in using DDT: If any of the liquid comes in contact with your skin, wash it off at once with soap and water. This is important.

State Trade School Licensing Agent Is Ousted From Job

HARRISBURG, June 8.—(INS)—A $5,400-a-year trade school licensing agent today was out of a state job as a result of testimony linking him to a small fortune amassed in the dual role of operator and registration chief.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Hahs said the dismissal of John O. Judge, of Pittsburgh, as the head of the Private Trade School Registration Board was based on statements before a congressional committee at Harrisburg.

The dismissal, Hahs said, "is effective immediately in the interest of good state service."

Made Large Profits

Judge and several other men, the committee learned via testimony, were operators of the Tri-State Training Institute in Wheeling, W. Va.

In a report at the conclusion of a three-day hearing, the committee described Judge as a state official responsible for approval and supervision of schools who "owned interests in a school and made large profits from a small investment."

Testimony disclosed that Judge realized a profit of $25,000 on an investment of $1,000 in Tri-State.

Propose Change In Classification Of State Counties

HARRISBURG, June 8.—(INS)—A measure revising population limits for classification of fifth, sixth and seventh class counties has been to Gov. John S. Fine following Senate concurrence in House amendments.

The bill reduces the minimum population of fifth class counties from 100,000 to 95,000, retaining the maximum of 150,000.

The minimum for sixth class counties would drop 5,000 to 45,000 while the seventh class minimum would remain at 20,000 but the maximum would conform to the new sixth class minimum.

Reclassification of counties would be effective the first day of January following the governor's certification of changes to commissioners of the counties involved.

Despondent Widow Ends Her Own Life

READING, Pa., June 8.—(INS)—Police report that a widow, despondent at the death of her husband, telephoned instructions to an undertaker after taking a fatal dose of poison.

According to police, Mrs. Thelma Woomert, 36, whose husband died in March, called the T. C. Auman funeral home early yesterday and told the attendant: "I want you to arrange my funeral. Make sure I'm wearing my wedding band and bury me next to my husband. It's too terrible when you're in love with your husband like I was and he dies."

The employee notified police headquarters. Two officers broke into Mrs. Woomert's third-floor bedroom and found her dead in bed, with an empty bottle which had contained sleeping pills.

Accuse Mother Of Sending Daughter Out As Burglar

NEW YORK, June 8.—(INS)—Police will take to court today a 31-year-old mother who allegedly admitted she has been sending her 13-year-old daughter out to burglarize apartments for six months.

The girl, a pretty, blue-eyed blonde, was seen in a building where one of the tenants reported the theft of a watch. She was traced to her home and when police arrived she said, "You might as well tell them, Ma, They'll find out anyway."

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK, June 8.—(INS)—Blouses with sweater-applique will flood fashion next fall.

Designers reported today they are turning out bodices that fit like sweaters, and still have the dressy effects of blouses, for day-time and evening wear.

The new gimmicks, called "after-five" blouses, are to be constructed of wool knit combined with luxury fabrics such as silk and chiffon. They will be designed either with knit bodices and fabric sleeves, or all-over sweater bodies lined with comfy silks.

The sweater-blouses, which are made to be worn for dressy daytime or formal evening, will usually be dolled up with glitter beads or buttons to add extra glamour. They'll be made with high, low, or shirtwaist-labeled necklines.

These sweater-styles are guaranteed fashionable for cocktail, dinner and dance-wear.

Stratocruiser With 56 Aboard Returns To Port Safely

SHANNON AIRPORT, Eire, June 8.—(INS)—A Pan-American Airways Stratocruiser with 56 persons aboard returned safely today to Shannon after one of its four engines failed while the plane was out over the North Atlantic en route to the United States.

The plane with its 46 passengers and 10 crew members landed without incident at 7:10 a.m. (2:10 a.m. EDT).

The passengers awaited a relief plane which will fly them to America.

The huge Stratocruiser had left Shannon at 11:30 p.m. Thursday for New York and encountered the engine trouble a few hundred miles out over the Atlantic.

The plane reported immediately that it was returning to Shannon and kept in constant touch with the airport while making its way back. The propeller on the damaged engine was feathered. The feathering diverts the blades of the propeller to prevent the force of the wind from throwing the plane off balance.

New York State Moves To Close 'Horse College'

NEW YORK, June 8.—(INS)—New York State moved today to close down a "horse college" with 30,000 students from coast to coast.

Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein asked the state supreme court to dissolve Prosperity Institute. He supported his action with printed material designed to induce horse players to subscribe to courses on how to pick winners and set up their own handicapping systems.

Goldstein said the cost for one course, called "You can pick your own winners," was $17 for ten lessons. Then there was a $16 post-graduate course of 13 lessons called "master selector time and key charts."

House Committee Approves Raise In Postal Rates

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(INS)—The house postoffice committee on Thursday killed a proposed 150 million dollar pay boost for postal employees and then approved a bill raising mail rates by $124,321,961 annually.

The defeat of the pay proposal was a reversal of committee action Wednesday. The amendment calling for the wage increase was offered by Rep. Rees (R) Kan.

The hikes in postal rates are designed to ease the postoffice department's current yearly deficit of about 500 million dollars. The increases apply to all four classes of mail as well as special services.

Summary Of Facts Given On Low Rental Housing

(Last of a Series)

In the four issues of The News, immediately preceding this issue, some facts have been published about low rental housing for New Castle. In the series, information was published showing the operation of low rental housing and an attempt made to get some idea as to the need for low rental housing in New Castle.

A number of facts have been developed and in this concluding article it seems proper to sum up those facts that have been developed in whole or in part.

First. There is a need for some type of housing in New Castle. The claims of proponents of low rental housing seem somewhat exaggerated although there are some homes in the city that should be abandoned. Many homes now listed as sub-standard could be repaired and improved to the point where they would be livable.

Second. Low rental housing is financed by a bond issue, to be amortized over a period of forty years. The government guarantees the bond issue but the money is raised through a bond issue.

Third. The rents charged for low rental housing units are far below comparative rents in the districts in which they are placed. The Federal law says they must be not less than twenty percent below private rentals.

Fourth. In general, low rental housing is not intended for persons on relief. Tenants are required to have an income and the rent is scaled according to the income.

Fifth. While a small amount of money is permitted to be paid to a municipality in lieu of taxes, this payment is about one tenth of what the taxes would be and hence the cost of governmental service to these tenants would have to be absorbed by the balance of the taxpayers.

Sixth. There is ample evidence of "gouging" upon the part of some landlords whose rental properties are not in the rent freeze of 1941. Offsetting these are properties that are renting at 1935 prices, these being frozen.

Seventh. There were 1509 more dwelling places in New Castle in 1950 than there were in 1940, with an increase in population of 925.

Eighth. Some of the industries would like to see some homes built here to provide dwelling places for workers brought into the city. The industries either are doing or expect to do defense work and must have skilled workers. However low rental housing would not remedy this as in most cases their incomes would be larger than those permitted in low rental housing units. If the homes were built as defense homes, the new workers could qualify.

Ninth. The sub-standard housing conditions are more evident in homes occupied by colored families. Many of these are in bad shape and certainly should be improved and repaired.

Tenth. There is a fairly widespread feeling that any action in the matter of low rental housing should come from the citizens. It is possible to get such expression upon the ballot. Under the law of 1931 third class cities may conduct a referendum upon an ordinance passed by city council, if twenty per cent of the voters at the last election signed a petition. If such a referendum were held in 1951 it would mean that approximately 3245 signatures would be necessary. A referendum is possible only when council passes an ordinance and the petition is fully and properly signed.

Eleventh. The matter could be placed upon the ballot by the initiative of the people. That is, if twenty per cent of the 1950 vote signed a petition the matter could be placed upon the ballot even if council did not pass an ordinance.

These articles have been prepared for but one thing; to inform the citizens of New Castle insofar as possible, the facts of the case. Being carried as news articles they have been as informative as possible and impartial. In no wise are they the opinions of any person, they are merely facts. With this presentation The News hopes it has performed a service. What action is taken for or against low rental housing is a matter for the citizens and the city council.

New Draft Bill Goes To Truman

House Approval Given Measure

By THOMAS J. FOLEY
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The House on Thursday passed and sent to President Truman a new military manpower bill lowering the draft age from 19 to 18½ and creating machinery for the nation's first universal training program.

House members approved the compromise measure, 339 to 41, and Mr. Truman is certain to sign it into law. The Senate adopted it last week.

Effect of the sweeping legislation is to revise the present selective service act, which was due to expire July 9, extend it to July 1, 1955, and to set up procedures for adopting a permanent peacetime UMT plan.

The measure lengthens the present draft hitch from 21 months to 24 months, requires all men in the 18 through 25 age bracket to register, and lowers physical induction standards to bring in an estimated 150,000 not now eligible.

It prevents drafting of youths under 19 until all available older men have been called.

The legislation establishes a total manpower ceiling of 5,000,000 for all the armed forces. The present defense establishment goal is 3,500,000.

UMT sections of the bill call for creation of a national security training commission to draw up plans for the universal training program within four months.

U.S. Embassy Dance In London Honors Margaret Truman

By JOHN E. CARLOVA
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 8.—(Friday)—Margaret Truman sang in London last night—but only for the ear of young William (Billie) Wallace, stepson of American journalist Herbert Agar.

Billy was her principal partner at a dance in her honor at the U. S. Embassy residence.

The daughter of the American president went to the party after meeting and curtsying to Queen Elizabeth at a Buckingham Palace royal dinner.

The 150 dance guests included Princess Margaret, Princess Astrid of Norway, the Duchess of Kent, Martin and Felicity Atlee, the son and daughter of the British prime minister, conductor Malcolm Sargent, film stars Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and David Niven, and U. S. Embassy officials.

Both Margarets danced most of the time, and the American Margaret sat out a few with young Wallace. They also had a buffet supper together. Princess Margaret left at 2 a. m., while the party was still going strong.

Margaret spent a good deal of the evening with Princess Margaret's frequent escorts — the Marquis of Blandford, Peter War, and Mark Bonham-Carter.

Conference Held On Public Housing

Proposed public housing project for the city of New Castle was discussed informally last night in city hall by Mayor John F. Haven, some members of the school board and County Commissioner Harvey Bush.

The meeting was held for the purpose of ascertaining as many facts as possible concerning the proposal. The mayor said he had sent to the proper authorities for further information which will help city council decide, whether or not, to ask the federal government to launch such a housing project here.

House Committee Meets To Consider Beef Price Controls

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(INS)

—The House agriculture committee meets in executive session today to consider action on controversial beef price controls and the office of price stabilization explains its program to two other congressional groups.

The price agency, already embroiled in a "no-retreat" battle over beef, disclosed at the same time that it plans to issue dollar-and-cent wholesale and retail ceilings this summer on pork, lamb, sausage and veal.

OPS hand was strengthened by the labor department's announcement that retail food prices rose to a new all-time high of 227.1 percent of the 1935-39 average in the first two weeks of May.

Only beef is now under such a regulation. Prices of other meats still are controlled by the general freeze issued last January 26.

New York Stocks

Price Pattern Is Not Clear

NEW YORK, June 8.—(INS)—The stock market followed no clear-cut price pattern today. Selected issues made some further headway, but the great majority of active leaders fluctuated irregularly around previous closings.

Curb stocks were firm. The bond market was mixed with U. S. governments a trifle easier. Commodities were lower.

Lawrence County Society For Crippled Hears Local Reports

A report of the work on a state level for handicapped children and adults highlighted a Thursday night meeting of the Lawrence County Society for Crippled Children and Adults at the Y.M.C.A.

Board member, Mrs. Wanetta Wellhausen, Ellwood City, had attended the state convention of the crippled children group at Harrisburg May 18 and 19. Her carefully prepared talk citing many examples of progress in speech and physiotherapy was most encouraging for the local society members.

It was also reported that local president, John A. McGrath, had been elected director of the state society at the convention. Mr. and Mrs. McGrath attended most of the Harrisburg sessions.

Special projects committee chairman Thomas Foley reported that handicraft classes for physical handicapped children will start Saturday, June 16, at North Street school. Competent instructors will help to make these weekly sessions outstanding from a recreational and educational view throughout the summer.

Five of Lawrence County's handicapped children will be sent to Camp Easter Seal, near Somerset, Pennsylvania, for eight weeks during the summer.

Kiwanis, Rotary and Rotary Anns have already voted to help finance this project.

Thursday's session was the last regular meeting of the Crippled Children Society Board for the summer. The Executive Committee will continue to meet, however.

New Castle Hospital Auxiliary Election

Election of new officers and their installation took place Thursday afternoon at the regular meeting of the New Castle Hospital Auxiliary.

They are: president, Mrs. John A. Meehan; first vice-president, Mrs. John Prioletti; second vice-president, Mrs. Julius Cobb; treasurer, Mrs. E. H. Willmarth; financial secretary, Mrs. Willis Flynn; recording secretary, Mrs. Sutton Smith; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frances Colao; auditor, Mrs. Don Hanon; honorary trustees, Mrs. William Strawbridge and Mrs. Jessie Stenger.

Yearly reports were made by the committees. Mrs. Strawbridge the retiring president, announced that the Auxiliary's pledge to the New Castle Hospital building for $15,000 has been paid in full. This was accomplished by the Auxiliary in two and a half years. Special commendation to the Auxiliary was extended for this splendid work.

In behalf of the Auxiliary, a lovely gift was presented to Mrs. Strawbridge for her untiring work. Mrs. Strawbridge responded graciously and in turn thanked her officers, members and committees for their cooperation in the past years.

The serving of dainty refreshments brought the meeting to a close.

Be Neither Speculator Nor Hoarder Is Babson's Advice

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1951, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

NEW YORK CITY, June 8.—What is the outlook for prices of foods, clothing and rent for the balance of this year? The scare buying is over. Installment sales are on the decline. Does this mean that the prices of all the things you buy will tumble? The federal attempts to lower prices is largely a political gesture. Very few high-quality goods will sell for less for some time. The only way prices will now be lowered is by reducing quality or forcing unemployment. As long as full employment exists, prices will continue to depend—not on Washington rulings—but on supply and demand. If American families go back to having a good beef roast only on Sundays, then the price of beef will decline. If, on the other hand, they decide to have a roast twice a week, then the price will remain high.

Here in New York City is the great central market for men's and women's clothing. Upon inquiries today I learn that the prices which you see in windows and advertisements may be kept down, but the quality will not be good. If you want good-quality suits or dresses you must pay more. This does not mean that the manufacturer of the brand you have always bought has marked up his goods, but that his old best-quality goods are no longer available. Hence, to get good quality you must buy a brand which has always cost more. This applies to almost everything—clothing, furniture and canned goods.

What About Wages?
The "take home" wages are determined by supply and demand. Labor unions can make manufacturers pay more wages, but they cannot make the public buy more merchandise. The bureaucrats at Washington can set a "fair" hourly wage, but they cannot assure work to the union members. The "take home" pay is the product of the hourly wage multiplied by the number of hours worked. I believe this will hold up for some time; but it must decline before prices of food, clothing and shelter will tumble.

Yet, we must remember that only 25 per cent of our workers are now unionized. The great mass are still free to work where they wish, as they wish and for what they wish. These are the true Americans, in my humble judgment. These will supply the foremen, managers and future employers of our great growing country. If you always want to work for someone else, then join a union. If, however, you want to be a free man and climb to the top of some business, don't be tied to union rules.

Dollars Are Worth Less
Another reason why the government cannot now reduce prices is because the dollar will be worth less next year. Just now President Truman is balancing the nation's budget; but he can't do this next year. He must print money or bonds to help pay for the military expenditures. Paper dollars are little different from paper dollars or any other commodity. As the supply increases above normal, the price goes down. Government bonds have already dropped in price; dollar bills will tumble again soon.

Many readers of my column send me charts and figures showing how prices have temporarily been controlled in the past, but they forget we are now living in an entirely new economic age. During his administration, President Roosevelt destroyed the gold basis for our dollar bills. This gold basis prevented prices from going too high. Now the only thing that can prevent prices, wages, real estate, etc., from staying up is either "a reduction in the supply of printing press money," or a business bust. Surely the price of gold will again be marked up.

Shall You Buy Now?
Don't buy now for hoarding. Prices will not skyrocket. There will continue to be enough necessary goods. On the other hand, don't wait for lower prices on goods you really need. Buy naturally; save naturally and live naturally. Be neither a hoarder nor a speculator; be neither a scrimp nor a waster; be a God-fearing, sensible citizen and insist upon quality even if you must buy less.

Teamsters Overtake Scotts For First Half Softball Title

Teamsters softballers maintained their mastery over all city league teams, when at Gaston park Thursday night they added single runs in the seventh and eighth innings to win from Scotts, 5-4.

The union team ran its win streak to 10 in tumbling Scotts to third place in the standings. Joe Embroski picked up both hitting and pitching laurels when he limited the losers to but five hits, and with two out in the eighth, slammed the game-winning home run.

Naples with three hits, Miller with two, including a home run, and Temperato with two, led the Teamster hitting. Jenkins, Lane and R. Ferrari hit well for Scotts. Richards, who relieved Lane in the seventh, suffered the Scotts' loss.

Teamsters . . . 002 010 11—5 11 3
Scotts . . . 110 011 00—4 5 1
Batteries—Teamsters, Embroski and DeJoseph; Scotts, Lane, Richards and Hawkins.

RM'S WIN
Ross-Morelli swarmed all over two Bossert pitchers at Lehigh field Thursday night to wallop Bossert 16-3, while moving up to second place past the Scotts in the league standings.

Spanish checked Bossert on three hits while his mates were banging out 14 off Pia and Mascio. Richards for Ross-Morelli slapped out three hits and N. Conti and DeVitto home runs. Pia for Bossert had two of his team's three hits.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
RM's . . . 450 011 50—16 14 1
Bossert . . . 100 200 00—3 3 4
Batteries—Ross-Morelli, Spanish and N. Conti; Bossert, Pia, Mascio and Othites.

UPSET WELDING
Lepores matched the New Castle Welding's four-run sixth inning last night at the loser's field and turned back the Welding bid for a win, 9-7.

Kubic contributed a home run to his pitching cause while teammate Tuminiello chipped in with a round-tripper and a single.

Chandler Ready To Leave Office Wants Assurance Against Suits

BOSTON, June 8.—(INS)—Baseball commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler will resign as baseball czar when all 16 owners sign an agreement "to save me from harm".

Chandler said he has set no date for his resignation but he talked readily about a severance pact he had presented the owners. The pact is designed to reimburse him for any financial loss he may suffer in suits now pending against organized baseball.

At the same time, Happy confirmed to reporters reports that Bill Veeck, former head of the Cleveland Indians, is "interested" in the St. Louis Browns.

Discusses Pension Plan

Chandler said he was in Boston to meet with Boston Braves players to discuss the players' pension fund. Chandler said:

"I have heard reports that Veeck is interested in the Browns. I don't know it's a fact that he made an offer, but I believe it is. I talked with Veeck on the telephone about it."

Back on the subject of his resignation and the severance pact, Chandler said:

"All 16 owners must sign this agreement. They must agree to save me from harm. I'm being sued individually, personally. I don't feel I can resign until I have

FREE WHEELING

ROCKFORD, Ill. — Richard A. Swenson got the surprise of his life when the three-wheeled motorcycle he was supposed to be towing passed the car he was driving.

The cycle somehow got unhitched from the bumper and moved along side the car and started to pass it. Swenson pulled over to the curb and watched the driverless three-wheeler roll for a block down the street.
